

You've Been Lied To About Depression

Cover Photo By: Mic445 - - - Creative Commons

You are being LIED to about Depression!

Why is it, that people assume the answer to every illness, especially depression, is a drug? Is it because, every single day, we are bombarded with advertisements and news articles that pills made in laboratories by men in white coats are the way to “cure” any ailment we have.

“Overweight? Take this pill. Can't sleep? Take that pill, Struggling to concentrate? Take these pills, Got depression? Take Prozac, or Fluoxetine, or Wellbutrin, or Ketamine, or whatever other pill and potion we can throw at you to make money!....and oh by the way, you'll have to take these pills every day for the rest of your life, and they have side effects, so you know what? You'll have to take a bunch of other pills every day of your life to combat them!”

Every day we are exposed to news and commercials that there is a new wonder-drug which will cure your depression. Every day we are told to take a pill or potion which will magically transform our lives and make us happy. They show us images of a man or woman deep in a pit of despair, struggling with life because of depression, then give you the sales pitch on why their revolutionary wonder-drug will “cure” you, and show you images of that same man or woman running on a beach or riding a horse, happy and content with life.

Those images all look wonderful, they make you think that your life will be everything you dreamed it could be if you just take a pill every day. There is a huge problem with the perfect images they show you and the wonderful things they tell you though:

NO DRUG “CURES” DEPRESSION!

In fact, when you think about it, when was the last time a drug cured anything? Polio perhaps?

The truth is, pharmaceutical companies don't want to cure depression. They make too much money by just giving you pills that help you to live with your illness. You see, there is no money in treating healthy people, and there's no money in treating dead people either - but there's BILLIONS to be made from illness and suffering!

All any antidepressant will do, at best, is lessen your symptoms of depression. For the majority of people, they do not help at all. The facts and figures show that in most cases, taking an antidepressant drug is only slightly better than taking a placebo. I would stand almost as much chance of treating your depression if I told you "Here, this drug is awesome and will cure you..." then gave you a sugar pill. And by the way, that would be a much better thing to take every day, as sugar pills do not come with side-effects. All antidepressants come with side effects though, one of which might make you commit suicide!

Taking all this into consideration, you may ask "If the big pharmaceutical companies are lying to us, why doesn't the government step in and do something?". If so, good question, however the answer may frighten you.

The government subsidises illness, they have to, there is too much money in it. Antidepressant drugs are worth over $10 BILLION to the American economy alone and that figure is rising year on year. The government knows this, and will do all they can to keep that figure rising. For instance, in 2007, Hilary Clinton's Health bill proposal mentioned the words "nutrition" and "exercise" just once - the word "drugs" however, was mentioned 14 times - just like the pharmaceutical companies wanted!

The government is not your nanny, the government is your dealer!

The Way to Cure Depression Naturally

The worst thing about the lies that you are being told though, is that while the drugs companies are making billions from depression without offering a cure, and the governments of the world are encouraging and enabling them to do so, there is a cure. A natural, holistic cure that anyone can do extremely cheaply and without the need for pills or potions. They won't tell you about it though, and it won't gain much press, because they won't be able to make any money from it!

It is called the "Destroy Depression System™", a simple, 7 step guide to self-curing depression naturally. The products creator, James Gordon, spent 20 years of his life with depression and many of those years on medication. He decided to do something about it by himself, and using an amalgamation of years of research he has done in the area, together with his own self-experimentation, came up with a system that GUARANTEES success..

If you would rather wait for a drug that "cures" depression though, that's fine. I doubt a drugs company will ever release one though - they are still mad at all the money they lost by curing Polio!

